

On 13th September 2019, at Moat Farm we celebrated the fantastic contribution that Roald Dahl has made to storytelling.

This year's theme was bravery, standing up for what you believe in and using the power of words to change the world around you. The children shared their personal experiences of times when they felt that they had been particularly brave. In the first interactive video that was shared with the children, they were exposed to how Roald Dahl created his memorable characters. The children were then challenged to create their own character. From this, they moved the characterisation on by looking at the conflict that their character might face in the style of Roald Dahl.

Everyone enjoyed this day and we look forward to celebrating some more in 2020!
